Deborah K. Boyett practices in the areas of corporate and business law, trusts and estates, and probate and real property. She has been admitted to practice before both state and federal courts and is a member of the Fresno County Bar Association and the California State Bar and is a member of the Trusts and Estates Sections of both organizations. She is Av rated by Martindale and Hubbell.

Ms. Boyett has a keen interest in the legal needs and planning opportunities of the generation born between 1946 to 1964. From estate planning, asset protection and wealth transfer planning to business succession and long-term health care considerations, Ms. Boyett particularly enjoys assisting “boomers” who are concerned with caring for their own parents as well as their children and grandchildren.

She served as the Editor-in-Chief of the San Joaquin Agricultural Law Review from 2000 to 2001. She is the author of “The Effect of Glickman v. Wileman Brothers & Elliot, Inc. on Nongeneric Commodities: A Narrow Focus on a Broad Rule.”

Ms. Boyett has been a guest speaker for entrepreneurship classes, addressing business entity formation and operations. She also speaks before various audiences on the benefits of estate planning and wealth preservation.

Ms. Boyett is a prior business owner, having operated an advertising and public relations firm in Fresno. She has served on the boards and in leadership positions of several nonprofit organizations, including the Pregnancy Care Center in Fresno, the Fresno Women’s Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary Club of Fresno Airport, the Rotary Club of Fresno Sunrise (Past President), the Fresno Advertising Federation (Past President), and the American Advertising Federation (Past District Governor).
